FINISH THE ENDING

Directions: Read the story below. Create your own ending to the story and write it on the following page.

Once upon a time, in the quiet town of Meadowville, a curious boy named Dami discovered a mysterious door hidden behind the old oak tree in his backyard. The door seemed ordinary, but as Dami opened it, he found himself in a strange and unfamiliar place.

Beyond the door was a lush forest filled with tall trees and colorful flowers. The air was crisp, and the sunlight filtered through the leaves, creating a beautiful dance of shadows on the ground. Dami hesitated for a moment but decided to explore this new world.

As he ventured deeper into the forest, Dami came across a sparkling stream. He followed its gentle flow until he stumbled upon a meadow dotted with wildflowers. In the meadow, he encountered a group of friendly animals – rabbits, squirrels, and even a wise old owl.

The animals seemed to be preparing for a celebration, and they invited Dami to join them. Together, they gathered berries, built a small bonfire, and shared stories. Dami felt a sense of belonging and happiness in this peaceful meadow.

As the day went on, the sun began to set, casting a warm glow over the meadow. The animals started to sing cheerful tunes, and fireflies lit up the meadow like tiny lanterns. Everyone was filled with joy, and Dami couldn't help but smile.

Now, it's up to you, little storyteller! What do you think Dami should do next in this enchanted meadow? How can he make the celebration even more special, and who might he meet along the way? Let your imagination take over and create a delightful ending to Dami's adventure!
